Note: The draft you are looking for begins on the next page.

Caution: DRAFT—NOT FOR FILING

This is an early release draft of an IRS tax form, instructions, or publication, which the IRS is providing for your information. Do not file draft forms. We incorporate all significant changes to forms posted with this coversheet. However, unexpected issues occasionally arise, or legislation is passed—in this case, we will post a new draft of the form to alert users that changes were made to the previously posted draft. Thus, there are never any changes to the last posted draft of a form and the final revision of the form. Forms and instructions are subject to OMB approval before they can be officially released, so we post drafts of them until they are approved. Drafts of instructions and pubs usually have some additional changes before their final release. Early release drafts are at IRS.gov/DraftForms and remain there after the final release is posted at IRS.gov/LatestForms. Also see IRS.gov/Forms.

Most forms and publications have a page on IRS.gov: IRS.gov/Form1040 for Form 1040; IRS.gov/Pub501 for Pub. 501; IRS.gov/W4 for Form W-4; and IRS.gov/ScheduleA for Schedule A (Form 1040), for example, and similarly for other forms, pubs, and schedules for Form 1040. When typing in a link, type it into the address bar of your browser, not a Search box on IRS.gov.

If you wish, you can submit comments to the IRS about draft or final forms, instructions, or pubs at IRS.gov/FormsComments. Include “NTF” followed by the form or pub number (for example, “NTF1040”, “NTFW4”, “NTF501”, etc.) in the body of the message to route your message properly. We cannot respond to all comments due to the high volume we receive and may not be able to consider many suggestions until the subsequent revision of the product, but we will review each “NTF” message. If you have comments on reducing paperwork and respondent (filer) burden, with respect to draft or final forms, please respond to the relevant information collection through the Federal Register process; for more info, click here.

Instructions for Form 8606

Nondeductible IRAs

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to 2025 Form 8606 and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to IRS.gov/Form8606.

What's New

Definitions for IRAs. Except where stated otherwise in these instructions:

- The term "traditional IRA" includes traditional SEP IRAs and traditional SIMPLE IRAs, and
- The term "Roth IRA" includes Roth SEP IRAs and Roth SIMPLE IRAs.

Clarification on nondeductible contributions. The Form 8606 and its instructions now clarify that nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA do not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan.

References to 2025 Form 8915-F. References to 2025 Form 8915-F in these instructions are to 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters) and 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters) as described below.

Form 8915-F is called Form 8915-F (2024 disasters) when the qualified disasters began in 2024. 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters) is used to report qualified 2024 disaster distributions made in 2025, qualified distributions received in 2025 for the purchase or construction of a main home in the area of a 2024 disaster and reportable in 2025 on Part IV of 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters), and repayments of those distributions made for 2025.

Form 8915-F is called Form 8915-F (2025 disasters) when the qualified disasters began in 2025. 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters) is used to report qualified 2025 disaster distributions made in 2025, qualified distributions received in 2025 for the purchase or construction of a main home in the area of a 2025 disaster and reportable in 2025 on Part IV of 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), and repayments of those distributions made for 2025.

2025 Forms 8915-F are relevant to the calculations on 2025 Form 8606, lines 6, 7, 15b, 19, and 25b. The instructions for those lines have been updated as needed.

Modified adjusted gross income (AGI) limit for traditional IRA contributions increased. If you are covered by a retirement plan at work, you can contribute to a traditional IRA for 2025 only if your 2025 modified AGI for traditional IRA purposes is less than:

- $146,000 if married filing jointly or qualifying surviving spouse;
- $89,000 if single, head of household, or married filing separately and you didn't live with your spouse at any time in 2025; or
- $10,000 if married filing separately and you lived with your spouse at any time in 2025.

See Traditional IRAs, later.

Modified AGI limit for Roth IRA contributions increased. You can contribute to a Roth IRA for 2025 only if your 2025 modified AGI for Roth IRA purposes is less than:

- $246,000 if married filing jointly or qualifying surviving spouse;
- $165,000 if single, head of household, or married filing separately and you didn't live with your spouse at any time in 2025; or
- $10,000 if married filing separately and you lived with your spouse at any time in 2025.

See Roth IRAs, later.

Due date for contributions. The due date for making contributions for 2025 to your IRA for most people is Wednesday, April 15, 2026.

Reminders

Certain retirement plan distributions and their repayments. References to the following retirement plan distributions appear throughout as needed.

- Qualified birth or adoption distributions.
- Emergency personal expense distributions.
- Domestic abuse distributions.
- Terminal illness distributions.

For more information on these distributions, see Notice 2020-68, Notice 2024-02, and Notice 2024-55.

Throughout 2025 Form 8606 and these instructions, we have placed the above distributions and qualified disaster distributions (also known as qualified disaster recovery distributions) made in 2025 and their repayments under the umbrellas "any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers" and "certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers," as applicable.

For more information, see Certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers and Any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers, both in Special Terms under Definitions, later.

Basis adjustments. See Line 22 and Line 14, later, for basis adjustments arising from line 5 and line 6, respectively, of the 2025 Line 25c Worksheet and the 2025 Line 15c Worksheet. Also, see the Total Basis Chart for line 2.

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form 8606 to report:

- Nondeductible contributions you made to traditional IRAs;
- Distributions from traditional IRAs, if you have a basis in these IRAs;
- Conversions from traditional IRAs to Roth IRAs; and
- Distributions from Roth IRAs.

CAUTION Nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA do not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan.

Additional information. For more details on IRAs, see Pub. 590-A, Contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs); Pub. 590-B, Distributions from Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs); and Pub. 560, Retirement Plans for Small Business.

TIP If you received distributions from a traditional IRA in 2025 and you have never made nondeductible contributions (including nontaxable amounts you rolled over from a qualified retirement plan) to these IRAs, don't report the distributions on 2025 Form 8606. Instead, see Lines 4a and 4b in the 2025 Instructions for Form 1040 or the 2025 Instructions for Form 1040-NR. Also, to find out if any of your contributions to traditional IRAs are deductible, see the instructions for Schedule 1 in the Instructions for Form 1040.

Who Must File

File 2025 Form 8606 if any of the following apply.

- You made nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA for 2025. Nondeductible contributions to a traditional IRA do not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan.
- You received distributions from a traditional IRA in 2025; your basis in these IRAs is more than zero; and you made a repayment to an IRA of a qualified reservist distribution or a repayment of "any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers" (see Definitions, later). However, you do not need to file 2025 Form 8606 if your only distributions made in 2025 were qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and/or terminal illness distributions, and you repaid them in full in 2025.
- You received distributions from a traditional IRA in 2025 and your basis in these IRAs is more than zero. For this purpose, a distribution doesn't include a distribution that is rolled over (other than a repayment of certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers (see Special Terms under Definitions, later)), qualified charitable distribution, one-time distribution to fund an HSA, conversion, recharacterization, or return of certain contributions.
- You or your spouse transferred all or part of their traditional IRA in 2025 to the other spouse under a divorce or separation agreement where the transfer resulted in a change in the basis of the IRA of either spouse.
- You converted an amount from a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA in 2025.
- You received distributions from a Roth IRA in 2025 (other than a rollover, recharacterization, or return of certain contributions—see the instructions for Part III, later).
- You received a distribution from an inherited traditional IRA that has a basis, or you received a distribution from an inherited Roth IRA that wasn't a qualified distribution. You may need to file more than one Form 8606. See IRA with basis under What if You Inherit an IRA? in Pub. 590-B for more information.

Note: If you recharacterized a 2025 Roth IRA contribution as a traditional IRA contribution, or vice versa, treat the contribution as having been made to the second IRA, not the first IRA. See Recharacterizations, later.

TIP You don't have to file Form 8606 solely to report regular contributions to Roth IRAs. But see What Records Must I Keep*, later.*

When and Where To File

File 2025 Form 8606 with your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR by the due date, including extensions, of your return.

If you aren't required to file an income tax return but are required to file 2025 Form 8606, sign 2025 Form 8606 and send it to the IRS at the same time and place you would otherwise file 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR. Be sure to include your address on page 1 of the form and your signature and the date on page 2 of the form.

Definitions

This section contains the following definitions.

- IRAs Generally.
- Deemed IRAs.
- Traditional IRAs.
- Roth IRAs.
- SEP IRAs: Traditional and Roth.
- SIMPLE IRAs: Traditional and Roth.
- Special Terms.

IRAs Generally

An IRA is an individual retirement account or an individual retirement annuity.

- An individual retirement account is a trust or custodial account set up in the United States for the exclusive benefit of you or your beneficiaries. The account is created by a written document showing the account meets certain requirements.
- You can open an individual retirement annuity by purchasing an annuity contract or an endowment contract from a life insurance company. An individual retirement annuity must be issued in your name as the owner, and either you or your beneficiaries who survive you are the only ones who can receive the benefits or payments. An individual retirement annuity must also meet certain other requirements.

DRAFT

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

See Pub. 590-A for additional information on individual retirement accounts and individual retirement annuities. An IRA can be a traditional IRA, traditional SEP IRA, traditional SIMPLE IRA, Roth IRA, Roth SEP IRA, or Roth SIMPLE IRA. In general, individuals may make their own contributions to their traditional IRAs, traditional SEP IRAs, Roth IRAs, or Roth SEP IRAs. However, certain employers have arrangements under which the employer may contribute to traditional SEP IRAs or Roth SEP IRAs of their employees. As for traditional SIMPLE IRAs and Roth SIMPLE IRAs, only employers can make contributions to those IRAs.

IRA references in these instructions. In these instructions:

- Traditional IRAs generally include traditional SEP IRAs and traditional SIMPLE IRAs, unless otherwise stated;
- Roth IRAs generally include Roth SEP IRAs and Roth SIMPLE IRAs, unless otherwise stated; and
- Contributions to an IRA, unless stated otherwise, will not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan.

Deemed IRAs

A qualified employer plan (retirement plan) can maintain a separate account or annuity under the plan (a deemed IRA) to receive voluntary employee contributions. If in 2025 you had a deemed IRA, use the rules for either a traditional IRA or a Roth IRA depending on which type it was. See Pub. 590-A for more details.

Traditional IRAs

An IRA owner may make deductible or nondeductible contributions to their traditional IRA. You can open and make contributions to a traditional IRA if you (or, if you file a joint return, your spouse) received taxable compensation during the year. For purposes of these instructions, a traditional IRA is any IRA that isn't a Roth IRA.

For purposes of these instructions:

- A traditional IRA will include traditional SEP IRAs and traditional SIMPLE IRAs unless otherwise indicated; and
- Contributions to traditional IRAs generally will not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a traditional SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a traditional SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan, unless stated otherwise.

Contributions. An overall contribution limit applies to contributions to traditional IRAs that aren't employer contributions made to a traditional SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a traditional SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan. See Overall Contribution Limit for Traditional and Roth IRAs, later. Contributions to a traditional IRA may be fully deductible, partially deductible, or completely nondeductible.

Basis. Your basis in traditional IRAs is the total of all your nondeductible contributions and your nontaxable amounts included in rollovers made to these IRAs minus the total of all your nontaxable distributions, adjusted if necessary (see the instructions for line 2, later).

Keep track of your basis to figure the nontaxable part of your future distributions.

Roth IRAs

For purposes of these instructions:

- A Roth IRA will include Roth SEP IRAs and Roth SIMPLE IRAs unless otherwise indicated; and
- Contributions to Roth IRAs, unless stated otherwise, will not include employer contributions (including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction arrangement) made to a Roth SEP IRA under a SEP arrangement or to a Roth SIMPLE IRA under a SIMPLE IRA plan.

A Roth IRA is similar to a traditional IRA but has the following features.

- Contributions are never deductible.
- No minimum distributions are required during the Roth IRA owner's lifetime.
- Qualified distributions aren't includible in income.

Qualified distribution. Generally, a qualified distribution is any distribution from your Roth IRA that meets the following requirements.

1. It is made after the 5-year period beginning with the first year for which a contribution was made to a Roth IRA (including a conversion or a rollover from a qualified retirement plan) set up for your benefit.
2. The distribution is made:

a. On or after the date you reach age 59 1/2,
b. After your death,
c. Due to your disability, or
d. For qualified first-time homebuyer expenses.

Contributions. You can contribute to a Roth IRA for 2025 only if your 2025 modified AGI for Roth IRA purposes is less than:

- $246,000 if married filing jointly or qualifying surviving spouse;
- $165,000 if single, head of household, or married filing separately and you didn't live with your spouse at any time in 2025; or
- $10,000 if married filing separately and you lived with your spouse at any time in 2025.

Use the Maximum Roth IRA Contribution Worksheet to figure the maximum amount you can contribute to a Roth IRA for 2025. If you are married filing jointly, complete the worksheet separately for you and your spouse.

If you contributed too much to your Roth IRA, see Recharacterizations*, later.*

Keep for Your Records

Caution: If married filing jointly and the combined taxable compensation (defined below) for you and your spouse is less than $14,000 ($15,000 if one spouse is age 50 or older at the end of 2025; $16,000 if both spouses are age 50 or older at the end of 2025), don't use this worksheet. Instead, see Pub. 590-A for special rules.

1.	If married filing jointly, enter $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of 2025). All others, enter the smaller of $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of 2025) or your taxable compensation (defined later)	1.
2.	Enter your total contributions to traditional IRAs for 2025	2.
3.	Subtract line 2 from line 1	3.
4.	Enter $246,000 if married filing jointly or qualifying surviving spouse; $10,000 if married filing separately and you lived with your spouse at any time in 2025. All others, enter $165,000	4.
5.	Enter your modified AGI for Roth IRA purposes (discussed earlier)	5.
6.	Subtract line 5 from line 4. If zero or less, stop here; you may not contribute to a Roth IRA for 2025. See Recharacterizations, later, if you made Roth IRA contributions for 2025	6.
7.	If line 4 above is $165,000, enter $15,000; otherwise, enter $10,000. If line 6 is more than or equal to line 7, skip lines 8 and 9 and enter the amount from line 3 on line 10	7.
8.	Divide line 6 by line 7 and enter the result as a decimal (rounded to at least 3 places)	8.
9.	Multiply line 1 by line 8. If the result isn't a multiple of $10, increase it to the next multiple of $10 (for example, increase $490.30 to $500). Enter the result, but not less than $200	9.
10.	Maximum 2025 Roth IRA Contribution. Enter the smaller of line 3 or line 9. See Recharacterizations, later, if you contributed more than this amount to Roth IRAs for 2025	10.

DRAFT

Modified AGI for Roth IRA purposes. First, figure your AGI (2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 11a). Then, refigure it by:

1. Subtracting:

a. Roth IRA conversions included on Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4b; and

b. Roth IRA rollovers from qualified retirement plans included on Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 5b; and

2. Adding:

a. IRA deduction from Schedule 1 (Form 1040), line 20;

b. Student loan interest deduction from Schedule 1 (Form 1040), line 21;

c. Reserved for future use;

d. Exclusion of interest from Form 8815, Exclusion of Interest From Series EE and I U.S. Savings Bonds Issued After 1989;

e. Exclusion of employer-provided adoption benefits from Form 8839, Qualified Adoption Expenses;

f. Foreign earned income exclusion from Form 2555, Foreign Earned Income; and

g. Foreign housing exclusion or deduction from Form 2555.

CAUTION When figuring modified AGI for Roth IRA purposes, you may have to refigure items based on modified AGI, such as taxable social security benefits and passive activity losses allowed under the special allowance for rental real estate activities. See Can You Contribute to a Roth IRA? in Pub. 590-A for details.

Distributions. See the instructions for Part III, later.

Basis. See Line 22, later, for your basis in Roth IRAs.

SEP IRAs: Traditional and Roth

TIP Prior to January 1, 2023, traditional SEP IRAs were called SEP IRAs in these instructions. The term "traditional" was added to the name to distinguish them from Roth SEP IRAs, which were introduced in section 601 of the SECURE 2.0 Act of 2022 and effective beginning January 1, 2023.

A simplified employee pension (SEP) arrangement is an employer-sponsored plan under which an employer can make contributions to a traditional SEP IRA or a Roth SEP IRA for its employees. If you make your own contributions to a traditional SEP IRA (excluding employer contributions you make if you are self-employed), they are treated as contributions to a traditional IRA and may be deductible or nondeductible. Traditional SEP IRA distributions are reported in the same manner as traditional IRA distributions.

Since January 1, 2023, employers have been able to contribute to Roth SEP IRAs under a SEP arrangement. If you make your own contributions to a Roth SEP IRA (excluding employer contributions you make if you are self-employed), they are treated as contributions to a Roth IRA and are made with after-tax dollars and are not deductible. Roth SEP IRA distributions are reported in the same manner as Roth IRA distributions.

See Pub. 560 for additional details on SEP IRAs.

SIMPLE IRAs: Traditional and Roth

TIP Prior to January 1, 2023, traditional SIMPLE IRAs were called SIMPLE IRAs in these instructions. The term "traditional" was added to the name to distinguish them from Roth SIMPLE IRAs, which were introduced in section 601 of the SECURE 2.0 Act of 2022 and effective beginning January 1, 2023.

A SIMPLE IRA plan is a employer sponsored plan under which certain small employers (including self-employed individuals) can make contributions to traditional SIMPLE IRAs or Roth SIMPLE IRAs for their employees. Your employer's contributions under a SIMPLE IRA plan don't prevent you from making your own contributions to a traditional IRA or Roth IRA that isn't a SIMPLE IRA. SIMPLE IRA plans are also known as Savings Incentive Match Plans for Employees.

A SIMPLE IRA (whether a traditional SIMPLE IRA or a Roth SIMPLE IRA) is subject to certain restrictions that do not generally apply to other traditional IRAs or Roth IRAs. For example, an individual cannot make their own contributions to their SIMPLE IRA. As a result, discussions of contributions in these instructions will not cover contributions to SIMPLE IRAs.

Since January 1, 2023, employers with a SIMPLE IRA plan have been able to contribute to Roth SIMPLE IRAs under their SIMPLE IRA plan. Contributions to a Roth SIMPLE IRA are nondeductible and includible in income.

See Pub. 560 for additional details on SIMPLE IRAs.

Special Terms

Certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers. The term "certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers" is used on 2025 Form 8606 in the Part I and III lead-ins and in lines 6, 7, 15c, and 25c. It is used throughout these instructions as needed. The term describes repayments of the following distributions where the distributions were made in 2025.

- Qualified disaster distributions (also known as qualified disaster recovery distributions).
- Qualified birth or adoption distributions.
- Emergency personal expense distributions.
- Domestic abuse distributions.
- Terminal illness distributions.

Any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers. The term "any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers" is used in line 19 of 2025 Form 8606 and throughout these instructions as needed. The term describes the following distributions made in 2025.

- Qualified disaster distributions (also known as qualified disaster recovery distributions).
- Qualified birth or adoption distributions.
- Emergency personal expense distributions.
- Domestic abuse distributions.
- Terminal illness distributions.

Overall Contribution Limit for Traditional and Roth IRAs

If you aren't married filing jointly, your limit on contributions to traditional and Roth IRAs is generally the smaller of $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of 2025) or your taxable compensation (defined below).

If you are married filing jointly, your contribution limit is generally $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of 2025) and your spouse's contribution limit is $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of 2025) as well. But if the combined taxable compensation of both you and your spouse is less than $14,000 ($15,000 if one spouse is age 50 or older at the end of 2025; $16,000 if both spouses are age 50 or older at the end of 2025), see Kay Bailey Hutchison Spousal IRA Limit in Pub. 590-A for special rules.

This limit doesn't apply to employer contributions to a traditional SEP, traditional SIMPLE, Roth SEP, or Roth SIMPLE IRA.

Note: Rollovers, Roth IRA conversions, Roth IRA rollovers from qualified retirement plans, and repayments of qualified reservist distributions, qualified disaster distributions (also known as qualified disaster recovery distributions), qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and terminal illness distributions don't affect your contribution limit.

CAUTION The amount you can contribute to a Roth IRA may also be limited by your modified AGI (see Contributions, earlier, and the Maximum Roth IRA Contribution Worksheet).

Difficulty of care payments. For contributions for 2025, you may elect to increase the nondeductible IRA contribution limit by some or all of the amount of difficulty of care payments, which are a type of qualified foster care payment, received. For details, see 2025 Pub. 590-A.

Taxable compensation. Taxable compensation includes the following.

- Wages, salaries, tips, etc. If you received a distribution from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or nongovernmental section 457 plan that is included in box 1 of Form W-2 or in box 1 of Form 1099-NEC, don't include that distribution in taxable compensation. The distribution should be shown in (a) box 11 of Form W-2, (b) box 12 of Form W-2 with code Z, or (c) box 15 of Form 1099-MISC. If it isn't, contact your employer for the amount of the distribution.
- Nontaxable combat pay if you were a member of the U.S. Armed Forces.
- Self-employment income. If you are self-employed (a sole proprietor or a partner), taxable compensation is your net earnings from your trade or business (provided your personal services are a material income-producing factor) reduced by your deduction for contributions made on your behalf to retirement plans and the deductible part of your self-employment tax.

DRAFT

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

- Alimony and separate maintenance pursuant to a divorce or separation agreement entered into before January 1, 2019, unless that agreement was changed after December 31, 2018, to expressly provide that alimony received isn't included in the recipient's income.
- Certain non-tuition fellowship and stipend payments. For details, see Pub. 590-A.

See What Is Compensation? under Who Can Open a Traditional IRA? in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-A for details.

Recharacterizations

Generally, you can recharacterize (correct) an IRA contribution by making a trustee-to-trustee transfer from one IRA to another type of IRA. Trustee-to-trustee transfers are made directly between financial institutions or within the same financial institution. You must generally make the transfer by the due date of your return (including extensions) and reflect it on your return. However, if you timely filed your return without making the transfer, you can make the transfer within 6 months of the due date of your return, excluding extensions. If necessary, file an amended return reflecting the transfer (see Amending Form 8606, later). Enter "Filed pursuant to section 301.9100-2" on the amended return.

No recharacterizations of conversions made in 2018 or later. A conversion of a traditional IRA to a Roth IRA, and a rollover from any other eligible retirement plan to a Roth IRA, made in tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, cannot be recharacterized as having been made to a traditional IRA.

Reporting recharacterizations. Treat any recharacterized IRA contribution as though the amount of the contribution was originally contributed to the second IRA, not the first IRA. For the recharacterization, you must transfer the amount of the original contribution plus any related earnings or less any related loss. In most cases, your IRA trustee or custodian figures the amount of the related earnings you must transfer. If you need to figure the related earnings, see How Do You Recharacterize a Contribution? in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-A. Treat any earnings or loss that occurred in the first IRA as having occurred in the second IRA. You can't deduct any loss that occurred while the funds were in the first IRA. Also, you can't take a deduction for a contribution to a traditional IRA if you later recharacterize the amount. The following discussion explains how to report the two different types of recharacterizations, including the statement that you must attach to your return explaining the recharacterization.

1. You made a contribution to a traditional IRA and later recharacterized part or all of it in a trustee-to-trustee transfer to a Roth IRA. If you recharacterized only part of the contribution, report the nondeductible traditional IRA portion of the remaining contribution, if any, on Form 8606, Part I. If you recharacterized the entire contribution, don't report the contribution on Form 8606. In either case, attach a statement to your return explaining the recharacterization. If the recharacterization occurred in 2025, include the amount transferred from the traditional IRA on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a. If the recharacterization occurred in 2026, report the amount transferred only in the attached statement, and not on your 2025 or 2026 tax return. See Example next.

Example. You are single, covered by an employer retirement plan, and you contributed $4,000 to a new traditional IRA on May 27, 2025. On February 24, 2026, you determine that your 2025 modified AGI will limit your traditional IRA deduction to $1,000. The value of your traditional IRA on that date is $4,400. On the same date, you recharacterize $3,000 of the traditional IRA contribution as a Roth IRA contribution, and have $3,300 ($3,000 contribution plus $300 related earnings) transferred from your traditional IRA to a Roth IRA in a trustee-to-trustee transfer. You deduct the $1,000 traditional IRA contribution on your 2025 Form 1040. You don't file a 2025 Form 8606. You attach a statement to your 2025 return explaining the recharacterization. The statement indicates that you contributed $4,000 to a traditional IRA on May 27, 2025; recharacterized $3,000 of that contribution on February 24, 2026, by transferring $3,000 plus $300 of related earnings from your traditional IRA to a Roth IRA in a trustee-to-trustee transfer; and deducted the remaining traditional IRA contribution of $1,000 on your 2025 Form 1040. You don't report the $3,300 distribution from your traditional IRA on your 2025 Form 1040 because the distribution occurred in 2026. You don't report the distribution on your 2026 Form 1040 because the recharacterization related to 2025 and was explained in an attachment to your 2025 return.

2. You made a contribution to a Roth IRA and later recharacterized part or all of it in a trustee-to-trustee transfer to a traditional IRA. Report the nondeductible traditional IRA portion of the recharacterized contribution, if any, on Form 8606, Part I. Don't report the Roth IRA contribution (whether or not you recharacterized all or part of it) on Form 8606. Attach a statement to your return explaining the recharacterization. If the recharacterization occurred in 2025, include the amount transferred from the Roth IRA on your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a. If the recharacterization occurred in 2026, report the amount transferred only in the attached statement, and not on your 2025 or 2026 tax return. See Example next.

Example. You are single, covered by an employer retirement plan, and you contributed $4,000 to a new Roth IRA on June 17, 2025. On December 30, 2025, you determine that your 2025 modified AGI will allow a full traditional IRA deduction. On that same date, you recharacterize the Roth IRA contribution as a traditional IRA contribution and have $4,200, the balance in the Roth IRA account ($4,000 contribution plus $200 related earnings), transferred from your Roth IRA to a traditional IRA in a trustee-to-trustee transfer. You deduct the $4,000 traditional IRA contribution on your 2025 Form 1040. You don't file a Form 8606. You attach a statement to your return explaining the recharacterization. The statement indicates that you contributed $4,000 to a new Roth IRA on June 17, 2025; recharacterized that contribution on December 30, 2025, by transferring $4,200, the balance in the Roth IRA, to a traditional IRA in a trustee-to-trustee transfer; and deducted the traditional IRA contribution of $4,000 on your 2025 Form 1040. You include the $4,200 distribution from your Roth IRA on your 2025 Form 1040, line 4a.

Return of IRA Contributions

If, in 2025, you made traditional IRA contributions or Roth IRA contributions for 2025 and you had those contributions returned to you with any related earnings (or minus any loss) by the due date (including extensions) of your 2025 tax return, the returned contributions are treated as if they were never contributed. Don't report the contribution or distribution on Form 8606 or take a deduction for the contribution. However, you must include the amount of the distribution of the returned contributions you made in 2025 and any related earnings on your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a. Also include the related earnings on your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4b. Attach a statement explaining the distribution. Also, if you were under age 59½ at the time of a distribution with related earnings, you are generally subject to the additional 10% tax on early distributions (see Form 5329, Additional Taxes on Qualified Plans (Including IRAs) and Other Tax-Favored Accounts, and its instructions). Also, see Pub. 590-B for more information.

If you timely filed your 2025 tax return without withdrawing a contribution that you made in 2025, you can still have the contribution returned to you within 6 months of the due date of your 2025 tax return, excluding extensions. If you do, file an amended return for your 2025 tax year with "Filed pursuant to section 301.9100-2" entered at the top. Report any related earnings on the amended return and include an explanation of the withdrawn contribution. Make any other necessary changes on the amended return (for example, if you reported the contributions as excess contributions on your original return, include an amended Form 5329 reflecting that the withdrawn contributions are no longer treated as having been contributed).

In most cases, the related earnings that you must withdraw are figured by your IRA trustee or custodian. If you need to figure the related earnings on IRA contributions that were returned to you, see Contributions Returned Before Due Date of Return in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-A. If you made a contribution or distribution while the IRA held the returned contribution, see Pub. 590-A.

If you made a contribution for 2024 and you had it returned to you in 2025 as described above, don't report the distribution on your 2025 tax return. Instead, report it on your 2024 original or amended return in the manner described above.

Example. On May 27, 2025, you contributed $4,000 to your traditional IRA that has a basis. The value of the IRA was $18,000 prior to the contribution. On December 30, 2025, when you are age 57 and the value of the IRA is $23,600, you realize you can't make the entire contribution because your taxable compensation for the year will be too small. You decide to have $1,000 of the contribution returned to you and withdraw $1,073 from your IRA ($1,000 contribution plus $73 earnings). You didn't make any other withdrawals or contributions. You don't file a 2025 Form 8606. You deduct the $3,000 remaining contribution on your 2025 Schedule 1 (Form 1040), line 20. You include $1,073 on your 2025 Form 1040, line 4a, and $73 on line 4b. You attach a statement to your tax return explaining the distribution. Because you properly removed the excess contribution with the related earnings by the due date of your tax return, you aren't subject to the additional 6% tax on excess contributions, reported on Form 5329. Because the distribution of the $73 in earnings was made by the due date of your return, you also aren't subject to the additional tax on early distributions even though you were under age 59½ at the time of the distribution.

Return of Excess Traditional IRA Contributions

The return (distribution) in 2025 of excess traditional IRA contributions for years prior to 2025 isn't taxable if all three of the following apply.

1. The distribution was made after the due date, including extensions, of your tax return for the year for which the contribution was made (if the distribution was made earlier, see Return of IRA Contributions, earlier).
2. No deduction was allowable (without regard to the modified AGI limitation) or taken for the excess contributions.
3. The total contributions (excluding rollovers) to your traditional and traditional SEP IRAs for the year for which the excess contributions were made didn't exceed the amounts shown in the following table.

Year(s)	Contribution limit	Contribution limit if age 50 or older at the end of the year
2024	$7,000	$8,000
2023	$6,500	$7,500
2019 through 2022	$6,000	$7,000
2013 through 2018	$5,500	$6,500
2008 through 2012	$5,000	$6,000
2006 or 2007	$4,000	$5,000
2005	$4,000	$4,500
2002 through 2004	$3,000	$3,500
1997 through 2001	$2,000	—
before 1997	$2,250	—

If the excess contribution to your traditional IRA for the year included a rollover and the excess occurred because the information the plan was required to give you was incorrect, increase the contribution limit amount for the year shown in the table above by the amount of the excess that is due to the incorrect information.

If the total contributions for the year included employer contributions to a traditional SEP IRA, increase the contribution limit amount for the year shown in the table above by the smaller of the amount of the employer contributions or:

before 2001	$30,000

Include the total amount distributed on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a, and attach a statement to your return explaining the distribution. See Example, later.

If you meet these conditions and are otherwise required to file Form 8606:

- Don't take into account the amount of the withdrawn contributions in figuring line 2 (for 2025 or for any later year), and
- Don't include the amount of the withdrawn contributions on line 7.

Example. You are single, you retired in 2022, and you had no taxable compensation after 2022. However, you made traditional IRA contributions (that you didn't deduct) of $3,000 on December 15, 2023, and $4,000 on November 15, 2024. In December 2024, a tax practitioner informed you that you had made excess contributions for those years because you had no taxable compensation. In December 2025, you withdrew the $7,000 and filed amended returns for 2023 and 2024 reflecting the additional 6% tax on excess contributions on Form 5329. You include the $7,000 distribution on your 2025 Form 1040, line 4a; enter -0- on line 4b; and attach a statement to your return explaining the distribution, including the fact that you filed amended returns for 2023 and 2024 and paid the additional 6% tax on the excess contribution for 2023. The statement indicates that the distribution isn't taxable because (a) it was made after the due dates of your 2023 and 2024 tax returns, including extensions; (b) your total IRA contributions for 2023 didn't exceed $6,500 ($7,500 if age 50 or older at the end of that year) and for 2024 didn't exceed $7,000 ($8,000 if age 50 or older at the end of that year); and (c) you didn't take a deduction for the contributions, and no deduction was allowable because you didn't have any taxable compensation for those years. The statement also indicates that the distribution reduced your excess contributions to -0-, as reflected on your amended 2023 and 2024 Forms 5329. Don't file a 2025 Form 8606. If you are required to file Form 8606 in a year after 2025, don't include the $7,000 you withdrew in 2025 on line 2.

Amending Form 8606

Generally, after you file your return, you can change a nondeductible contribution to a traditional IRA to a deductible contribution or vice versa if you make the change within the time limit for filing Form 1040-X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return (see the Form 1040-X instructions). You may also be able to make a recharacterization (discussed earlier). If necessary, complete a new Form 8606 showing the revised information and file it with Form 1040-X.

Penalty for Not Filing

If you are required to file Form 8606 to report a nondeductible contribution to a traditional IRA for 2025 but don't do so, you must pay a $50 penalty, unless you can show reasonable cause.

Overstatement Penalty

If you overstate your nondeductible contributions, you must pay a $100 penalty, unless you can show reasonable cause.

What Records Must I Keep?

To verify the nontaxable part of distributions from your IRAs, including Roth IRAs, keep a copy of the following forms and records until all distributions are made.

- Page 1 of Forms 1040 or 1040-SR (or Forms 1040A, 1040-NR, or 1040-T) filed for each year you made a nondeductible contribution to a traditional IRA.
- Forms 8606 and any supporting statements, attachments, and worksheets for all applicable years.
- Forms 5498, IRA Contribution Information, or similar statements you received each year showing contributions you made to a traditional IRA or Roth IRA.
- Forms 5498 or similar statements you received showing the value of your traditional IRAs for each year you received a distribution.
- Forms 1099-R or W-2P you received for each year you received a distribution.

Note: Forms 1040-T, 1040A, and W-2P are forms that were used in prior years.

Specific Instructions

Name and social security number (SSN). If you file a joint return, enter only the name and SSN of the spouse whose information is being reported on Form 8606.

More than one Form 8606 required. If both you and your spouse are required to file 2025 Form 8606, file a separate 2025 Form 8606 for each of you. If you are required to file 2025 Form 8606 for IRAs inherited from more than one decedent, file a separate 2025 Form 8606 for the IRA from each decedent.

Part I—Nondeductible Contributions to Traditional IRAs and Distributions From Traditional IRAs

Line 1

If you used the IRA Deduction Worksheet in the Form 1040 instructions or as referred to in the Form 1040-NR instructions, subtract line 12 of the worksheet (or the amount you chose to deduct on Schedule 1 (Form 1040), line 20, if less) from the smaller of line 10 or line 11 of the worksheet. Enter the result on line 1 of Form 8606. You can't deduct the amount included on line 1.

If you used the worksheet Figuring Your Reduced IRA Deduction for 2025 in Pub. 590-A, enter on line 1 of Form 8606 any nondeductible contributions from the appropriate lines of that worksheet.

If you didn't have any deductible contributions, you can make nondeductible contributions up to your contribution limit (see Overall Contribution Limit for Traditional and Roth IRAs, earlier). Enter on line 1 of Form 8606 your nondeductible contributions.

Include on line 1 any repayment of a qualified reservist distribution.

Don't include on line 1 contributions that you had returned to you with the related earnings (or less any loss). See Return of IRA Contributions, earlier.

Line 2

Generally, if this is the first year you are required to file Form 8606, enter -0-. Otherwise, use the Total Basis Chart to find the amount to enter on line 2.

However, you may need to enter an amount that is more than -0- (even if this is the first year you are required to file Form 8606) or increase or decrease the amount from the chart if your basis changed because of any of the following.

- You had a return of excess traditional IRA contributions (see Return of Excess Traditional IRA Contributions, earlier).
- Incident to divorce, you transferred or received part or all of a traditional IRA (see the last bulleted item under Line 7, later).
- You rolled over any nontaxable portion of your qualified retirement plan to a traditional IRA that wasn't previously reported on Form 8606, line 2. Include the nontaxable portion on line 2.

Line 4

If you made contributions to traditional IRAs for 2025 in 2025 and 2026 and you have both deductible and nondeductible contributions, you can choose to treat the contributions made in 2025 first as nondeductible contributions and then as deductible contributions, or vice versa.

Example. You made contributions for 2025 of $2,000 in May 2025 and $2,000 in January 2026, of which $3,000 is deductible and $1,000 is nondeductible. You choose $1,000 of your contribution in 2025 to be nondeductible. You enter the $1,000 on line 1, but not line 4, and it becomes part of your basis for 2025.

Although the contributions to traditional IRAs for 2025 that you made from January 1, 2026, through April 15, 2025, can be treated as nondeductible, they aren't included in figuring the nontaxable part of any distributions you received in 2025.

Line 6

Enter the total value of all your traditional IRAs as of December 31, 2025, plus any outstanding rollovers. A statement should be sent to you by January 31, 2026, showing the value of each IRA on December 31, 2025. However, if you recharacterized any amounts originally contributed, enter on line 6 the total value, taking into account all recharacterizations of those amounts, including recharacterizations made after December 31, 2025.

For purposes of line 6, a rollover is a tax-free distribution from any traditional IRA that is contributed to another traditional IRA. The rollover must be completed within 60 days after receiving the distribution from the first IRA. An outstanding rollover is generally the amount of any distribution received in 2025 after November 1, 2025, that was rolled over in 2026, but within the 60-day rollover period. A rollover between a traditional SIMPLE IRA and a qualified retirement plan or an IRA (other than a traditional SIMPLE IRA) can only take place after your first 2 years of participation in the traditional SIMPLE IRA. See Pub. 590-A for more details.

Pursuant to Revenue Procedure 2020-46 in Internal Revenue Bulletin 2020-45, available at IRS.gov/irb/2020-45_IRB#REV-PROC-2020-46, you may make a written certification to a plan administrator or an IRA trustee that you missed the 60-day rollover contribution deadline because of one or more of the 12 reasons listed in Revenue Procedure 2020-46. See Revenue Procedure 2020-46 for information on how to self-certify for a waiver. Also see Time Limit for Making a Rollover Contribution under Can You Move Retirement Plan Assets? in Pub. 590-A for more information on ways to get a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement.

Note: Don't include an outstanding rollover from a traditional IRA to a qualified retirement plan.

CAUTION Include on line 6 qualified distributions from Part IV of your 2025 Form(s) 8915-F, if any, you repaid in 2025 no later than the deadline for repayment.

Repayments in 2025 of Certain 2025 Retirement Plan Distributions Whose Repayments Are Treated As Rollovers

Do not reduce line 6 by any repayment that is described in Certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers under Special Terms in Definitions, earlier, if the repayment was made in 2025 but the distribution was made in a year before 2025.

The amount you would otherwise enter on line 6 should be reduced by the total amount of any repayment that is described in Certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers under Special Terms in Definitions, earlier, if the repayment was made in 2025 for a distribution made in 2025. If the result is zero or less, enter -0-.

Example. You received a $20,000 qualified disaster distribution on May 6, 2025, from your traditional IRA. On November 25, 2025, you made a repayment of $10,000 to your traditional IRA. The value of all of your traditional IRAs as of December 31, 2025, was $50,000. You had no outstanding rollovers. You would enter $40,000 ($50,000 minus $10,000 repayment) on line 6.

Line 7

CAUTION If you received a distribution in 2025 from a traditional IRA and you also made contributions for 2025 to a traditional IRA that may not be fully deductible because of the income limits, you must make a special computation before completing the rest of this form. For details, including how to complete Form 8606, see Are Distributions Taxable? in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-B.

Don't include any of the following on line 7.

- Distributions that you converted to a Roth IRA.
- Recharacterizations of traditional IRA contributions to Roth IRA contributions.
- Distributions you rolled over to another traditional IRA (whether or not the distribution is an outstanding rollover included on line 6).
- Distributions you rolled over to a qualified retirement plan.
- A one-time distribution to fund an HSA. For details, see Pub. 969, Health Savings Accounts and Other Tax-Favored Health Plans.
- Distributions that are treated as a return of contributions under Return of IRA Contributions, earlier.
- Qualified charitable distributions (QCDs). For details, see Are Distributions Taxable? in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-B.
- Distributions that are treated as a return of excess contributions under Return of Excess Traditional IRA Contributions, earlier.
- Qualified distributions from Part IV of your 2025 Form(s) 8915-F, if any, you repaid in 2025 no later than the deadline for repayment.
- Distributions that are incident to divorce. The transfer of part or all of your traditional IRA to your spouse under a divorce or separation agreement isn't taxable to you or your spouse. If this transfer results in a change in the basis of the IRA of either spouse, both spouses must file Form 8606 and show the increase or decrease in the amount of basis on line 2. Attach a statement explaining this adjustment. Include in the statement the character of the amounts in the IRA, such as the amount attributable to nondeductible contributions. Also, include the name and SSN of the other spouse.

CAUTION Be sure to include on line 7 all the distributions made in 2025 that are described in Any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers under Special Terms in Definitions*, earlier, even if they were later repaid.*

Line 8

If, in 2025, you converted any amounts from traditional IRAs to a Roth IRA, enter on line 8 the net amount you converted.

Line 14

Enter the amount on line 3 reduced by the amount on line 13.

CAUTION If you completed the 2025 Line 15c Worksheet, include the amount, if any, from line 6 of the worksheet on line 14 of Form 8606 in the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Part I of Form 8606. If you are completing Part I of 2025 Form 8606 (and the last time you filed a Form 8606 with a completed Part I before 2025, you completed a Line 15c Worksheet on which the amount on line 6 was greater than zero), enter on line 14 of your 2025 Form 8606 the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 3, reduced by the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 13, and increased by the amount from line 6 of that earlier worksheet.

Line 15b

If you have no qualified disaster distributions in 2025 from a traditional IRA, enter -0- on line 15b. If all your distributions in 2025 from those IRAs are qualified disaster distributions, enter the amount from line 15a on line 15b. If you have distributions in 2025 unrelated to qualified disasters, as well as qualified disaster distributions, you will need to multiply the amount on line 15a by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is your total qualified disaster distributions, and the denominator is the amount from Form 8606, line 7.

DRAFT

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

Example 1. In February 2025, an $11,000 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster, was made to you from your traditional IRA (that you did not roll over). Your main home was in Arkansas during the Arkansas Severe Storms and Tornadoes (DR-4865-AR), which began March 14, 2025, and was declared a major disaster on May 8, 2025. You sustained an economic loss because of that disaster. The end date for making distributions for this disaster is November 3, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified disaster distribution was made to you from your traditional IRA in the amount of $22,000 that you reported on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters). $22,000 was the maximum amount of qualified disaster distributions that could be made for that disaster. You will report total distributions of $33,000 on 2025 Form 8606, line 7. You will then complete lines 8 through 14 as instructed. 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, shows an amount of $30,000. You will enter $20,000 ($30,000 × $22,000/$33,000) on line 15b. You will also enter $20,000 on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), line 18.

Example 2. Your main home was in Texas during the Texas Hurricane Beryl (DR-4798-TX), which began July 5, 2024, and which was declared as a major disaster July 9, 2024; and Texas Severe Storms, Straight-line Winds, and Flooding (DR-4879-TX), which began July 2, 2025, and which was declared as a major disaster July 6, 2025. You sustained economic losses because of each of those disasters. The end dates for making distributions for those disasters are January 4, 2025, and January 1, 2026, respectively. On January 2, 2025, and July 17, 2025, qualified disaster distributions were made to you from your traditional IRA in the amount of $22,000 and $11,000 that you reported on 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters) and 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), respectively. $22,000 was the maximum amount of qualified disaster distributions that could be made for the 2024 disaster. In between those distributions, in March 2025, a $5,500 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster, was made to you from your traditional IRA (that you did not roll over). You will report total distributions of $38,500 on 2025 Form 8606, line 7. You will then complete lines 8 through 14 as instructed. 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, shows an amount of $35,000. You will enter $30,000 ($35,000 × $33,000/$38,500) on line 15b. You will also enter $20,000 ($30,000 × $22,000/$33,000) on 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters), line 18; and $10,000 ($30,000 × $11,000/$33,000) on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), line 18.

Line 15c

If you were under age 59½ at the time you received distributions from your traditional IRA, there is generally an additional 10% tax on the portion of the distribution that is included in income (25% for a distribution from a traditional SIMPLE IRA during the first 2 years of your participation in the plan). See the instructions for Schedule 2 (Form 1040), line 8, and the Instructions for Form 5329.

2025 Line 15c Worksheet

The 2025 Line 15c Worksheet is for filers who have reported on Form 8606, line 7, certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers, but is not for repayments reported on Form 8915-F. You will need to complete the 2025 Line 15c Worksheet if a qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, or terminal illness distribution was made to you in 2025 and you repaid part or all of the distribution within the 3-year repayment period. You will enter on the 2025 Line 15c Worksheet, as applicable, all the qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and terminal illness distributions that were both made to you in 2025 and repaid by you, in whole or in part, within the 3-year repayment period. If the repayment was made after 2025 and within the 3-year repayment period, you may need to file an amended 2025 return. The amount on line 5 of the worksheet is the taxable income you will enter on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606. The amount, if any, on line 6 of the worksheet is the amount you will include on line 14 of your Form 8606 in the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Form 8606.

If you make the repayment in a year after the distribution, you may need to file an amended return. See Example 3*, later.*

You do not have to complete the worksheet if:

- You didn't report any qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, or terminal illness distributions on line 7 of your 2025 Form 8606; or
- You reported qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and/or terminal illness distributions on line 7 of your 2025 Form 8606 but you didn't repay any of the distributions within the 3-year repayment period.

Example 1. In July 2025, a $7,500 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster distribution, qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, or terminal illness distribution, was made to you from your traditional IRA (that you did not roll over). Your child was born on August 31, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified birth or adoption distribution was made to you for that child from your traditional IRA in the amount of $5,000. $5,000 is the maximum amount of qualified birth or adoption distributions that can be made for a child. No other distributions were made to you in 2025. You will report total distributions of $12,500 on your 2025 Form 8606, line 7. You will then complete lines 8 through 14 as instructed. Your 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, shows an amount of $10,000. You repaid $3,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution in December 2025 and therefore must complete a 2025 Line 15c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 14 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 15c Worksheet as follows.

2025 Line 15c Worksheet

Before You Begin

Did you repay, within the 3-year repayment period, qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, or terminal illness distributions that you reported on 2025 Form 8606, line 7?

[ ] Yes. Complete this worksheet.

[ ] No. Don't complete this worksheet. Enter on 2025 Form 8606, line 15c, the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, reduced by the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 15b.

TIP. If 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, is zero, enter -0- on 2025 Form 8606, line 15c. You do not need to complete this worksheet.

1.	Enter the amount from 2025 Form 8606, line 15a	1.
2.	Enter the amount from 2025 Form 8606, line 7	2.
3.	Complete lines 3a through 3e only if, within the 3-year repayment period, you repaid qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, or terminal illness distributions you reported on 2025 Form 8606, line 7. If you do not meet this requirement, STOP here.	3.
a.	Enter the total qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and terminal illness distributions reported on 2025 Form 8606, line 7	a.
b.	Enter line 3a divided by line 2	b.
c.	Enter line 1 multiplied by line 3b	c.
d.	Enter the total qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, and terminal illness distribution repayments you made, within the 3-year repayment period, for the distributions on line 3a	d.
e.	Enter the smaller of the amount on line 3c and the amount on line 3d	e.
4.	Enter the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, reduced by the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 15b	4.
5.	Line 15c: Taxable amount. Subtract line 3e from line 4. If the result is zero or less than zero, enter -0-. If the result is greater than zero, enter the result on line 5 here and on 2025 Form 8606, line 15c; and include the result on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4b, as applicable. If the repayment was made after 2025 and within the 3-year repayment period, you may need to file an amended 2025 return	5.
6.	Basis adjustment. If line 3d is more than line 3e, enter line 3d reduced by line 3e on line 6 here and also include this amount on line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions in Part I of Form 8606 Note: You may be subject to an additional 10% tax on the amount on line 5 if you were under age 59½ at the time of the distribution(s).	6.

- Line 1: $10,000.
- Line 2: $12,500.
- Line 3a: $5,000.
- Line 3b: 0.4 ($5,000/$12,500).
- Line 3c: $4,000 ($10,000 x 0.4).
- Line 3d: $3,000.
- Line 3e: $3,000.
- Line 4: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 5: $7,000.
- Line 6: leave blank. Line 3d is not more than line 3e.

Because you have entered $7,000 on line 5 of the worksheet, you will enter $7,000 on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and include $7,000 on line 4b of your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, as applicable.

Because line 6 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions in Part I of Form 8606.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 1 above, except, in December 2025, you repaid the entire 2025 qualified birth or adoption distribution (that is, $5,000), instead of $3,000 of that distribution. Because you repaid $5,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution, you must complete a 2025 Line 15c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 15c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $10,000.
- Line 2: $12,500.
- Line 3a: $5,000.
- Line 3b: 0.4 ($5,000/$12,500).
- Line 3c: $4,000 ($10,000 x 0.4).
- Line 3d: $5,000.
- Line 3e: $4,000.
- Line 4: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 5: $6,000.
- Line 6: $1,000 ($5,000 - $4,000).

Because you have entered $6,000 on line 5 of the worksheet, you will enter $6,000 on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and include $6,000 on line 4b of your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, as applicable.

Because you have entered $1,000 on line 6 of the worksheet, you will include $1,000 on line 14 of your Form

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions in Part I of Form 8606.

Example 3. The facts are the same as in Example 1 above, except you did not repay any of the 2025 qualified birth or adoption distribution until December 2026 when you repaid $3,000 of the distribution. On April 6, 2026, you timely filed your 2025 Form 1040 with an attached 2025 Form 8606. You reported $10,000 on 2025 Form 1040, line 4b, and on 2025 Form 8606, line 15c. On December 16, 2026, you file an amended 2025 Form 8606 on which you recalculate the amounts on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 as follows because of the 2026 repayment. Because you repaid $3,000 of the 2025 qualified birth or adoption distribution within the 3-year repayment period, you must complete a 2025 Line 15c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 15c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $10,000.
- Line 2: $12,500.
- Line 3a: $5,000.
- Line 3b: 0.4 ($5,000/$12,500).
- Line 3c: $4,000 ($10,000 x 0.4).
- Line 3d: $3,000.
- Line 3e: $3,000.
- Line 4: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 5: $7,000.
- Line 6: leave blank. Line 3d is not more than line 3e.

Because you have entered $7,000 on line 5 of the worksheet, you will enter $7,000 on line 15c of your amended 2025 Form 8606 and include $7,000 on line 4b of your amended 2025 Form 1040. You will need to file an amended 2025 Form 1040 to report the amount from your amended 2025 Form 8606.

Because line 6 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions in Part I of Form 8606.

Example 4. In July 2025, a $7,500 domestic abuse distribution was made to you from your traditional IRA. The total you receive in domestic abuse distributions can't be more than the lesser of $10,000 or 50% of the present value of the nonforfeitable accrued benefit of the employee under the plan (which was $30,000 at the time of the distribution). Your child was born on August 31, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified birth or adoption distribution was made to you for that child from your traditional IRA in the amount of $5,000. $5,000 is the maximum amount of qualified birth or adoption distributions that can be made for a child. No other distributions were made to you in 2025. You will report total distributions of $12,500 on your 2025 Form 8606, line 7. You will then complete lines 8 through 14 as instructed. Your 2025 Form 8606, line 15a, shows an amount of $8,000. You repaid $3,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution in December 2025 and therefore must complete a 2025 Line 15c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 15c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $8,000.
- Line 2: $12,500.
- Line 3a: $12,500.
- Line 3b: 1.0 ($12,500/$12,500).
- Line 3c: $8,000 ($8,000 x 1.0).
- Line 3d: $3,000.
- Line 3e: $3,000.
- Line 4: $8,000 ($8,000 – 0).
- Line 5: $5,000.
- Line 6: leave blank. Line 3d is not more than line 3e.

Because you have entered $5,000 on line 5 of the worksheet, you will enter $5,000 on line 15c of your 2025 Form 8606 and include $5,000 on line 4b of your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, as applicable.

Because line 6 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 14 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report traditional IRA distributions in Part I of Form 8606.

Part II—2025 Conversions From Traditional IRAs to Roth IRAs

Complete Part II if you converted part or all of your traditional IRAs to a Roth IRA in 2025.

Line 16

If you didn't complete line 8, see the instructions for that line. Then, enter on line 16 the amount you would have entered on line 8 had you completed it.

Line 17

If you didn't complete line 11, enter on line 17 the amount from line 2 (or the amount you would have entered on line 2 if you had completed that line) plus any contributions included on line 1 that you made before the conversion.

Line 18

If your entry on line 18 is zero or less, don't include the result on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4b. Include the full amount of the distribution on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a.

Part III—Distributions From Roth IRAs

Complete Part III to figure the taxable part, if any, of your 2025 Roth IRA distributions.

Line 19

Don't include on line 19 any of the following.

1. Distributions that you rolled over, including distributions made in 2025 and rolled over after December 31, 2025 (outstanding rollovers).
2. Recharacterizations.
3. Distributions that are a return of contributions under Return of IRA Contributions, earlier.
4. Distributions made on or after age 59 1/2 if you made a contribution (including a conversion or a rollover from a qualified retirement plan) for any year from 1998 through 2020.

DRAFT

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

5. A one-time distribution to fund an HSA. For details, see Pub. 969.

6. Qualified charitable distributions (QCDs). For details, see Are Distributions Taxable? in chapter 1 of Pub. 590-B.

7. Distributions made upon death or due to disability if a contribution was made (including a conversion or a rollover from a qualified retirement plan) for any year from 1998 through 2020.

8. Qualified distributions from Part IV of your 2025 Form(s) 8915-F, if any, you repaid in 2025 no later than the deadline for repayment.

9. Distributions that are incident to divorce. The transfer of part or all of your Roth IRA to your spouse under a divorce or separation agreement isn't taxable to you or your spouse.

CAUTION Be sure to include on line 19 the distributions made in 2025 that are described in Any 2025 retirement plan distributions whose repayments are treated as rollovers under Special Terms in Definitions*, earlier, even if they were later repaid, unless they fall under numbers 4 or 7 above.*

If, after considering the items above, you don't have an amount to enter on line 19, don't complete Part III; your Roth IRA distribution(s) isn't taxable. Instead, include your total Roth IRA distribution(s) on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4a.

Line 20

If you had a qualified first-time homebuyer distribution from your Roth IRA and you made a contribution (including a conversion or a rollover from a qualified retirement plan) to a Roth IRA for any year from 1998 through 2020, enter the amount of your qualified expenses on line 20, but don't enter more than $10,000 reduced by the total of all your prior qualified first-time homebuyer distributions. For details, see Are Distributions Taxable? in chapter 2 of Pub. 590-B.

Line 22

CAUTION If you completed the 2025 Line 25c Worksheet, include the amount, if any, from line 5 of the worksheet on line 22 of Form 8606 in the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Part III of Form 8606. If you are completing Part III of 2025 Form 8606 (and the last time you filed a Form 8606 with Part III completed before 2025, you completed a Line 25c Worksheet on which the amount on line 5 was greater than zero), increase the amount on line 22 of your 2025 Form 8606 by the amount from line 5 of that earlier worksheet.

- If you didn't take a Roth IRA distribution before 2025 (other than an amount rolled over or recharacterized or a returned contribution), enter on line 22 the total of all your regular contributions to Roth IRAs for 1998 through 2025 (excluding rollovers from other Roth IRAs and any contributions that you had returned to you), adjusted for any recharacterizations.
- If you did take such a distribution before 2025, see the Basis in Regular Roth IRA Contributions Worksheet to figure the amount to enter.
- Increase the amount on line 22 by any amount rolled in from a designated Roth account that is treated as investment in the contract.
- Increase or decrease the amount on line 22 by any basis in regular contributions received or transferred incident to divorce. Also attach a statement similar to the one explained in the last bulleted item under Line 7, earlier.
- Increase the amount on line 22 by the amounts received as a military gratuity or Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance (SGLI) payment that was rolled over to your Roth IRA.

Line 23

Generally, there is an additional 10% tax on 2025 distributions from a Roth or Roth SEP IRA (25% tax on distributions from a Roth SIMPLE IRA) that are shown on line 23. You will need to complete lines 1 through 4 of Form 5329 to determine the amounts from the Roth IRAs that are subject to the additional tax. See the Instructions for Form 5329, Part I, for details and exceptions.

- If you have never made a Roth IRA conversion or rolled over an amount from a qualified retirement plan to a Roth IRA, enter -0- on line 24.
- If you took a Roth IRA distribution (other than an amount rolled over or recharacterized or a returned contribution) before 2025 in excess of your basis in regular Roth IRA contributions, see the Basis in Roth IRA Conversions and Rollovers From Qualified Retirement Plans to Roth IRAs chart to figure the amount to enter on line 24.
- If you didn't take such a distribution before 2025, enter on line 24 the total of all your conversions to Roth IRAs. These amounts are shown on line 14c of your 1998, 1999, and 2000 Forms 8606; and line 16 of your 2001 through 2025 Forms 8606. Also include on line 24 any amounts rolled over from a qualified retirement plan to a Roth IRA for 2008, 2009, and 2011 through 2025 reported on your Form 1040, 1040-SR, 1040A, or 1040-NR, and for 2010 reported on line 21 of your Form 8606. Don't include amounts rolled in from a designated Roth account because these amounts are included on line 22.
- Increase or decrease the amount on line 24 by any basis in conversions to Roth IRAs and amounts rolled over from a qualified retirement plan to a Roth IRA received or transferred incident to divorce. Also attach a statement similar to the one explained in the last bulleted item under Line 7, earlier.

Line 25b

If you have no qualified disaster distributions in 2025 from a Roth IRA, enter -0- on line 25b. If all your distributions in 2025 from Roth IRAs are qualified disaster distributions, enter the amount from line 25a on line 25b. If you have distributions in 2025 unrelated to qualified disasters, as well as qualified disaster distributions, you will need to multiply the amount on line 25a by a fraction. The numerator of the fraction is your total qualified disaster distributions, and the denominator is the amount from Form 8606, line 21.

DRAFT

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

Example 1. In February 2025, an $11,000 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster, was made to you from your Roth IRA (that you did not roll over). Your main home was in Arkansas during the Arkansas Severe Storms and Tornadoes (DR-4865-AR), which began March 14, 2025, and was declared a major disaster on May 8, 2025. You sustained an economic loss because of that disaster. The end date for making distributions for this disaster is November 3, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified disaster distribution was made to you from your Roth IRA in the amount of $22,000 that you reported on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters). $22,000 was the maximum amount of qualified disaster distributions that could be made for that disaster. You will report total distributions of $33,000 on 2025 Form 8606, line 19. You have no first-time homebuyer expenses reported on line 20, so you would also enter $33,000 on line 21. You will then complete lines 22 through 24 as instructed. 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, shows an amount of $30,000. You will enter $20,000 ($30,000 × $22,000/$33,000) on line 25b. You will also enter $20,000 on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), line 19.

Example 2. Your main home was in Texas during the Texas Hurricane Beryl (DR-4798-TX), which began July 5, 2024, and which was declared as a major disaster July 9, 2024; and Texas Severe Storms, Straight-line Winds, and Flooding (DR-4879-TX), which began July 2, 2025, and which was declared as a major disaster July 6, 2025. You sustained economic losses because of each of those disasters. The end dates for making distributions for those disasters are January 4, 2025, and January 1, 2026, respectively. On January 2, 2025, and July 17, 2025, qualified disaster distributions were made to you from your Roth IRA in the amount of $22,000 and $11,000 that you reported on 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters) and 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), respectively. $22,000 was the maximum amount of qualified disaster distributions that could be made for the 2024 disaster. In between those distributions, in March 2025, a $5,500 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster, was made to you from your Roth IRA (that you did not roll over). You will report total distributions of $38,500 on 2025 Form 8606, line 19. You have no first-time homebuyer expenses reported on line 20, so you would also enter $38,500 on line 21. You will then complete lines 22 through 24 as instructed. 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, shows an amount of $35,000. You will enter $30,000 ($35,000 × $33,000/$38,500) on line 25b. You will also enter $20,000 ($30,000 × $22,000/$33,000) on 2025 Form 8915-F (2024 disasters), line 19; and $10,000 ($30,000 × $11,000/$33,000) on 2025 Form 8915-F (2025 disasters), line 19.

Line 25c

If you were under age 59½ at the time you received distributions from your Roth IRA, there is generally an additional 10% tax on the portion of the distribution that is included in income (25% for a distribution from a Roth SIMPLE IRA during the first 2 years of your participation in the plan). See the instructions for Schedule 2 (Form 1040), line 8, and the Instructions for Form 5329.

2025 Line 25c Worksheet

The 2025 Line 25c Worksheet is for filers who have reported on Form 8606, line 19, certain 2025 retirement plan distribution repayments treated as rollovers, but is not for repayments reported on Form 8915-F. You will need to complete the 2025 Line 25c Worksheet if a qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, or terminal illness distribution was made to you in 2025 and you repaid part or all of the distribution within the 3-year repayment period. You will enter on the 2025 Line 25c Worksheet, as applicable, all the qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and terminal illness distributions that were both made to you in 2025 and repaid by you, in whole or in part, within the 3-year repayment period. If the repayment was made after 2025 and within the 3-year repayment period, you may need to file an amended 2025 return. The amount on line 4 of the worksheet is the taxable income you will enter on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606. The amount, if any, on line 5 of the worksheet is the amount you will include on line 22 of your Form 8606 in the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Form 8606.

If you make the repayment in a year after the distribution, you may need to file an amended return. See Example 3*, later.*

You do not have to complete the worksheet if:

- You didn't report any qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, or terminal illness distributions on line 19 of your 2025 Form 8606; or
- You reported qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, and/or terminal illness distributions on line 19 of your 2025 Form 8606 but you didn't repay any of the distributions within the 3-year repayment period.

Example 1. In July 2025, a $7,500 distribution, unrelated to a qualified disaster distribution, qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, or terminal illness distribution, was made to you from your Roth IRA (that you did not roll over). Your child was born on August 31, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified birth or adoption distribution was made to you for that child from your Roth IRA in the amount of $5,000. $5,000 is the maximum amount of qualified birth or adoption distributions that can be made for a child. No other distributions were made to you in 2025. You will report total distributions of $12,500 on your 2025 Form 8606, line 19. You have no first-time homebuyer expenses reported on your 2025 Form 8606, line 20, so you would also enter $12,500 on your 2025 Form, 8606, line 21. You will then complete lines 22 through 24 as instructed. Your 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, shows an amount of $10,000. You repaid $3,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution in December 2025 and therefore must complete a 2025 Line 25c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 22 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Form 8606. 2025 Line 25c Worksheet

Before You Begin

Did you repay, within the 3-year repayment period, qualified birth or adoption distributions, emergency personal expense distributions, domestic abuse distributions, or terminal illness distributions that you reported on 2025 Form 8606, line 19?

[ ] Yes. Complete this worksheet.

[ ] No. Don't complete this worksheet. Enter on 2025 Form 8606, line 25c, the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, reduced by the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 25b.

TIP. If 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, is zero, enter -0- on 2025 Form 8606, line 25c. You do not need to complete this worksheet.

1.	Enter the amount from 2025 Form 8606, line 19	1. _____
2.	Subtract the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 25b, from the amount on 2025 Form 8606, line 25a	2. _____
3.	Enter the total qualified birth or adoption distribution, emergency personal expense distribution, domestic abuse distribution, and terminal illness distribution repayments you made, within the 3-year repayment period, for the distributions on line 1	3. _____
4.	Subtract line 3 from line 2. If the result is zero or less than zero, enter -0-. If the result is greater than zero, enter the result on line 4 here and on 2025 Form 8606, line 25c; and include the result on 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 4b, as applicable. If the repayment was made after 2025 and within the 3-year repayment period, you may need to file an amended 2025 return	4. _____
5.	If line 3 is more than line 2, subtract line 2 from line 3. Include this amount as an adjustment on Form 8606, line 22, for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions in Part III of Form 8606	5. _____

Note: You may be subject to an additional 10% tax on the amount on line 4 if you were under age 59½ at the time of the distribution(s).

determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 25c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $12,500.
- Line 2: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 3: $3,000.
- Line 4: $7,000 ($10,000 – $3,000).
- Line 5: leave blank. Line 3 is not more than line 2.

Because you have entered $7,000 on line 4 of the worksheet, you will enter $7,000 on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and include the $7,000 on line 4b of your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, as applicable.

Because line 5 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions in Part III of Form 8606.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 1 above, except, in December 2025, you repaid the entire 2025 qualified birth or adoption distribution (that is, $5,000), instead of $3,000 of that distribution. Because you repaid $5,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution, you must complete a 2025 Line 25c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 25c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $12,500.
- Line 2: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 3: $5,000.
- Line 4: $5,000 ($10,000 – $5,000).
- Line 5: leave blank. Line 3 is not more than line 2.

Because you have entered $5,000 on line 4 of the worksheet, you will enter $5,000 on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and include the $5,000 on line 4b of your 2025 Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, as applicable.

Because line 5 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions in Part III of Form 8606.

Example 3. The facts are the same as in Example 1, earlier, except you did not repay any of the 2025 qualified birth or adoption distribution until December 2026 when you repaid $3,000 of the distribution. On April 6, 2026, you timely filed your 2025 Form 1040 with an attached 2025 Form 8606. You reported $10,000 on 2025 Form 1040, line 4b, and on 2025 Form 8606, line 25c. On December 16, 2026, you file an amended 2025 Form 8606 on which you recalculate the amounts on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 as follows because of the 2026 repayment. Because you repaid $3,000 of the qualified birth or adoption distribution within the 3-year repayment period, you must complete a 2025 Line 25c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 25c Worksheet as follows.

TREASURY/IRS AND OMB USE ONLY DRAFT

- Line 1: $12,500.
- Line 2: $10,000 ($10,000 – 0).
- Line 3: $3,000.
- Line 4: $7,000 ($10,000 – $3,000).
- Line 5: leave blank. Line 3 is not larger than line 2.

Because you have entered $7,000 on line 4 of the worksheet, you will enter $7,000 on line 25c of your amended 2025 Form 8606 and include the $7,000 on line 4b of your amended 2025 Form 1040. You will need to file an amended 2025 Form 1040 to report the amount from your amended 2025 Form 8606.

Because line 5 is blank, you don't have an amount, as a result of the repayment, to add to line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions in Part III of Form 8606.

Example 4. In July 2025, a $7,500 domestic abuse distribution was made to you from your Roth IRA. The total you receive in domestic abuse distributions can't be more than the lesser of $10,000 or 50% of the present value of the nonforfeitable accrued benefit of the employee under the plan (which was $30,000 at the time of the distribution). Your child was born on August 31, 2025. In September 2025, a qualified birth or adoption distribution was made to you for that child from your Roth IRA in the amount of $5,000. $5,000 is the maximum amount of qualified birth or adoption distributions that can be made for a child. No other distributions were made to you in 2025. You will report total distributions of $12,500 on your 2025 Form 8606, line 19. You have no first-time homebuyer expenses reported on your 2025 Form 8606, line 20, so you would also enter $12,500 on your 2025 Form, 8606, line 21. You will then complete lines 22 through 24 as instructed. Your 2025 Form 8606, line 25a, shows an amount of $8,000. You repaid both of the distributions in December 2025, for a total of $12,500. Because you made these repayments, you must complete a 2025 Line 25c Worksheet to determine the amount to place on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606 and to include on line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions on Form 8606. To determine these amounts, you filled in the lines of your 2025 Line 25c Worksheet as follows.

- Line 1: $12,500.
- Line 2: $8,000 ($8,000 – 0).
- Line 3: $12,500.
- Line 4: $0 ($8,000 – $12,500, which is less than zero, so we enter zero).
- Line 5: $4,500 ($12,500 – $8,000).

Because you have entered $0 on line 4 of the worksheet, you will enter $0 on line 25c of your 2025 Form 8606.

Because you have entered $4,500 on line 5 of the worksheet, you will add $4,500 to line 22 of your Form 8606 for the next year after 2025 you report Roth IRA distributions in Part III of Form 8606.
