I live on Long Island New York. I have some of the highest insurance rates in the country. I pay over $22,000 pretty year for family healthy coverage now. And I still have to pay 20% of any bill that we incur. This is a gold plan under Obamacare, not even platinum.

My insurance company it's asking for a 22% increase next year. Unbelievable.

This it's not a Cadillac plan but it is approaching Cadillac penalty levels. You need to make different limits for different parts of the country. One size does not fit all when you live in a high cost area like I do.
